

Read the news in English every day!

<https://www.theguardian.com/international>

Support The Guardian
Available for everyone, funded by readers
Contribute Subscribe

Search jobs Sign in Search The Guardian International edition

News Opinion Sport Culture Lifestyle More

World UK Science Cities Global development Football Tech Business Environment Obituaries

Headlines
Wednesday 11 September 2019

Find Fivizzano

Now 24°C

22:00 01:00 04:00 07:00
17°C 16°C 16°C 16°C

Live / Brexit: No 10 resists demands to recall parliament after Scottish prorogation ruling
Rolling coverage of the day's political developments as they happen
Prorogation dispute: What happens next after court ruling?

Boris Johnson PM under pressure to recall parliament

Nigel Farage: Senior Tories rebuff election pact offer

Brazil / Outcry as Bolsonaro's son questions value of democracy

Israel / Arab leaders denounce Netanyahu's plan to annex Palestinian territories

Robert Mugabe / Body arrives in Zimbabwe amid burial site row

Greece / Police search for

Italy / Underpopulated region offers visitors €25,000 to move in

Netherlands / Court clears doctor in landmark euthanasia trial

5G / China told to 'clean up its cyber act' for Huawei to be used in network

Wildlife / Europe's marine

Live / Trump repeats dubious 9/11 claim during memorial speech

<https://www.bbc.com>

Welcome to BBC.com

Wednesday, 11 September

Judges rule Parliament suspension is unlawful
Scotland's highest court says Boris Johnson, in effect, misled the Queen over the move.
SCOTLAND

Why Parliament suspension ruling is so significant
UK

'Period-shamed' schoolgirl took her own life
AFRICA

The greatest visionary in 200 years
CULTURE

The ancient 'caviar' of Mexico
TRAVEL

News

Dutch doctor cleared in landmark euthanasia case
Prosecutors argued that a dementia patient euthanised in 2016 had not been asked to verify her wish.

Search teams scour Bahamas wreckage
Nearly two weeks after Hurricane Dorian, search operations continue to find the dead.

Barcelona footballer sentenced for firing gun
Arda Turan gets a suspended sentence for firing a gun in a hospital following a fight with a singer.

<https://www.washingtonpost.com>

The Washington Post

September 11, 2019 Democracy Dies in Darkness

In the News Dan Bishop 9/11 Donald Rumsfeld Vaping 'Frozen dragon' iPhone 11 Boris Johnson Chrissy Teigen

Doubts about loyalty, accusations of leaks spark Bolton's Trumpian end
President Trump decided to remove his national security adviser after accusations that John Bolton had leaked to the media, tried to drag others into his battles with the secretary of state, and promoted his own views over the president's, people familiar with the matter said.
By Karen DeYoung, Josh Dawsey and John Hudson

With Bolton's departure, Pompeo gets 'more running room'

Analysis: U.S. foes will welcome departure but shouldn't get too excited

Campaign 2020
Poll finds Trump well behind Biden and Sanders, slightly trailing Warren and Harris
A new Washington Post-ABC News poll tested President Trump against five Democrats and found him trailing significantly or modestly in four of those cases.
By Dan Balz and Emily Guskin

Watch our live debate show at 7:30 p.m. Thursday

Get The Triller newsletter

The Fix Analysis
Democrats didn't win in N.C.'s special election, but here's why they're still celebrating
The party projected strength by coming close — twice — in a Republican, pro-Trump district.
By Amber Phillips

Republican pulls off narrow win in N.C. House race

Trump takes credit for win, tweets photo suggesting a third

2°C: Beyond The Limit

